A Northern Waterway. The project of the Hudson's Bay Com pany in putting a steamboat on the Athabasea River, is a movement that promises the most important results to that far-off country, and is one of the most daring of the many flights of enterprise that have marked the opening up of the Northwest, and much greater than their other act of huilding a tramway around Grand Rapids and putting steamers on the Saskatchewan. When a railway is built across an nuopened country, a line of settlement is sure to follow, and to contribute largely to furnishing traffic for it; but this case is widely different, for its mission will be to open up a country at present unsettled by any save the employes of the Hudson's Bay Corpany, some missionaries, a few traders, and a mere handful of men who have gone in this season to test the agricultural capabilities of the country to which the Athabosca affords the rendiest access, and which is reported as being equal in fertility to any part of the continent. Protecting the Rear, ne confessed the soft impeachment.

Have your mother call to-morrow," the Have your mother call to-morrow," the teacher remarked, with awful and ominous significance. His maternal ancestor appeared on the following day, and, after being duly and publicly informed of the flagrant breach of discipline her son had been guilty of, was requested to say if the would punish him herself, or have the teacher attend to the matter. She the teacher attend to the matter. She preferred the latter course, and urged that the blows be well laid on. The next day was appointed for the flagellation. At the usual hour for such unpleasant affairs the youth was summoned to the front. He came with a hang-dog look and some trepidation. An oration on youthful frivolities having been duly delivered, the boy was ordered to extend his hand beneath an upraised ruler. He refused, and, in accordance with the usual custom in such cases. Was spread across the teacher's nees, was spread scross the teacher's nees, and the punishment was admintered in another quarter than the one ignally intended. For some unexplainable reason the most energetic blows fell without the desired effect. A consultation of male teachers ensued, and the offender was conducted to a rivate room, and his wardrobe subjected by a rigid examination. tion. On the interior private room, and his wardrobe subjected to a rigid examination. On the interior of his bifurcated garment, at a locality of great strategical importance in such an emergency, was a thick fiannel heby's frock securely attached. "Who sowed that on?" demanded the principal, in a voice of thunder. "My mother," answered the boy, with broken sobs. The teachers hurriedly consulted again, instructed the boy never to reveal the circumstance, and sent him in to his studies. Somehow the matter leaked sut.
